21 Here Attend Clinic On Congress Issues

Two high school boys, who joined 19 Washington C. H. businessmen at a Congressional Issues Clinic sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, in Cincinnati Thursday said they "found the whole thing very educational."

Webb Ellis and Ted Clarke, Washington C. H. High School seniors who went to the conference as guests of the Washington C. H. Chamber said they learned a lot.

"It was confusing," Webb admitted Friday, adding "I'll be days getting my notes straightened out. But it was educational."

Confusion may have resulted from the fact that economists and political scientists covered no fewer than 15 vital issues in the one-day clinic, which was attended by 550 people, including 12 high school students, represented 42 Chambers of Commerce in eight states.

"One big thing we all found out is that businessmen just aren't as involved in politics as they might be," William Stouton, Chamber manager here, said Friday.

Stouton showed results of a poll taken by the Opinion Research Corp. that indicates 52 per cent of American businessmen have never written their congressmen.

"And," Stouton added, "we got indications that congressmen will give a letter from a businessman a lot closer attention than letters from others."

BUSINESSMEN at the meeting came out in favor of lower taxes, less foreign aid and decreased public participation in housing, electric power and commercial atomic energy.

They also indicated they were in favor of increased implementation of the Hoover Commission reports.

Rodenfels Is Named Publisher of Paper In Circleville, too

Paul F. Rodenfels, publisher of the Washington C. H. Record-Herald, Friday was named publisher of the Circleville Herald to succeed the late Tom Wilson.

His appointment was announced by Wayne W. Galvin of Lima, president of newspapers in Washington C. H., Circleville, Wilmington, Logan, Van Wert and Hillsboro.

Rodenfels, who will remain as publisher of the Record-Herald as well as of the Circleville Herald, was advertising manager of the Circleville newspaper from 1944 to 1948, before he came to Washington C. H.

He is to continue to make his home here.

Defense Aide's Resignation OK'd By Eisenhower

Ross Questioned At Length about Military Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has accepted swiftly the resignation of Robert Tripp Ross as assistant secretary of defense. Ross has been questioned by a Senate committee about military contracts awarded to firms headed by relatives.

Ross told Eisenhower he had done nothing wrong or improper, but "I feel that my future effectiveness" in the office "has been impaired."

Within a few hours after being informed Thursday night of Ross' letter of resignation, the President wrote him a three-paragraph letter accepting the resignation, effective Feb. 20.

Ross, whose wife is president of Wynn Enterprises, Inc., and whose brother-in-law H. D. Wynn heads affiliated firms, has been on a self-requested leave of absence since Jan. 11. Ross himself has been an officer of several of the companies, but said he severed all those connections in 1952 when he was elected to Congress.

HIS LETTER to Eisenhower said he had been guilty of no wrongdoing. In his appearance before the Senate Investigations subcommittee Wednesday, he said, "Nothing was brought to my attention to indicate that the committee had found any evidence of any wrongdoing, improprieties or conflict of interest on my part."

"Nevertheless, I feel that my future effectiveness in my position as the assistant secretary of defense responsible for legislative and public affairs has been impaired by the very serious implications of the situation."

Prober Questions Medical Findings

CHICAGO (AP) — The Cook County coroner's chief investigator, disputing the medical findings in the slaying of the Grimes sisters, says they had been beaten and at least one had been sexually molested before they died.

Harry F. Glos, coroner's investigator for five years and a former policeman for 20 years, also challenged the medical report that the Grimes girls, Barbara, 15, and Patricia, 13, died within six hours after leaving their home on the night of Dec. 28.

"Only half of the story has been told and I don't know why the other half has been withheld," Glos declared Thursday night.

"This may cost me my job, but I cannot sleep knowing things are being covered up," Glos said. "I was in that room for five hours while the pathologists conducted the autopsy. I know what I saw and heard. It is time that some of it came out."

Three pathologists who made extensive laboratory tests on the sisters' bodies said there was no evidence that the girls had been beaten or sexually molested.

A STATE TOXICOLOGIST has reported he believes the girls died the same night they disappeared, but Glos believes their deaths occurred much later. He said the girls probably were dumped along a suburban roadside either on the nights of Jan. 7, 8, or 13th, "most likely the 13th."

Their naked and frozen bodies were found near suburban Willow Springs Jan. 22. The girls' deaths were attributed by the three pathologists to exposure to the cold.

Quick OK Asked On Ike's Plan

Eisenhower Satisfied With Senate Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has asked the Senate to "act promptly and approve" a military-economic plan to help Middle Eastern nations avoid Communist control. He called for "a decisive vote."

Accepting Democratic revisions in his original Middle East resolution, Eisenhower said through his press secretary James C. Hagerty that he feels the revised version "is designed to accomplish the purposes" he sought.

The Senate is to start debate Monday on the legislation, which would back up Eisenhower's plan to use U. S. armed forces if necessary to repel overt Communist attack on a Middle Eastern nation asking help. It also would remove restrictions from $200 million of available funds and permit their use for military and economic aid in the area.

The House already has approved Eisenhower's resolution virtually without change, including advance "authority" for the President to use military forces as requested.

THE SENATE Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees knocked out the "authority" clause by a 15-13 party-line vote. The revised resolution says, "If the President determines the necessity thereof, the United States is prepared to use armed forces" in the Middle East.

Secretary of State Dulles had pleaded for the grant of authority as having greater "impact."

There were indications the administration may seek some change from the Senate revisions when the measure goes to a conference committee, but Hagerty said in Thomasville, Ga., where Eisenhower is vacationing:

"The President has no doubt that, since both the Senate committees' version and the House version seem clearly to be intended to support the President's program, the final congressional action will be in terms entirely satisfactory to the President."

New North Africa Accord Is Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The 27-nation Asian-African group was expected to go into the General Assembly today with a compromise plan aimed at ending French-Algerian strife in North Africa.

The Assembly's 90-nation top Political Committee voted earlier this week against Asian-African demands that France grant Algerians the right to determine their own future.

It then approved two recommendations for French-Algerian talks to try to end the bloodshed. Neither one polled enough votes to assure it a two-thirds majority in the Assembly.

The committee voted 37-27 for a resolution by Japan the Philippines and Thailand declaring the Algerian situation "may be normalized by the joint efforts of France and the Algerian people to find an equitable solution."

The other, adopted 41-33, recommended that the Assembly voice hope that a "peaceful and democratic solution" could be found. Argentina, Brazil, Cuba, Italy, Peru and the Dominican Republic sponsored that one.

Further U. N. action to get Israeli troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Sharm el Sheikh area of Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast still was stalled as U. N. diplomats waited word of Israel's reply to the new U. S. proposal on Israeli withdrawal.

An authoritative source in Jerusalem said Premier David Ben-Gurion and his Cabinet had instructed Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban to seek further clarification of Secretary of State Dulles' proposals.

The Israeli Cabinet was said to have agreed that the two-part American offer was a positive approach but still somewhat too general for the Israelis.

Dulles reportedly offered U. S. "support" for freedom of navigation through the Gulf of Aqaba and stationing of U. N. emergency forces in large numbers in the Gaza Strip.

One U. N. diplomat said the Israelis want commitments, not declarations. There was no indication, however, the United States would offer any more.

Mounting Egyptian criticism of the Dulles plan cast further doubt on its future. An Egyptian spokesman announced:

1. The U. N. resolutions of 1948 calling for repatriation of Arab refugees from Israel must be implemented before the question of Israeli ships passing through Egyptian "territorial" waters is discussed. Egypt regards at least the narrow entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba as her territory.

2. Israeli troops must withdraw unconditionally in obedience to the Assembly resolutions.

CLINTON, Tenn. — A dynamite-laden suitcase exploded in the heart of Clinton's Negro section Thursday night, wrecking a restaurant and slightly injuring a Negro woman and baby.

The dynamite charge, which witnesses said was placed by a white man who raced away in a car, also heavily damaged other Negro-owned property.

The blast was the area's eighth, and by far the most destructive, since Clinton High School admitted 12 Negro students under a federal court order last fall.

Old Stalinist To Deal with Other Nations

Shepilov Is Replaced In Shakeup Reported By Kremlin Bosses

LONDON (AP) — Andrei A. Gromyko replaced Dmitri Shepilov today as foreign minister of the Soviet Union. Shepilov returned to his old post as a member of the powerful secretariat of the Soviet Communist Central Committee.

Gromyko, former ambassador to Washington, rose to prominence under the tenure of V.M. Molotov as foreign minister. He is regarded as a Stalinist in his outlook.

Moscow radio, reporting the changes, also revealed that the central committee, meeting in full session Thursday and today, named Frol Romanovich Kozlov as a candidate alternate member of the ruling presidium of the Communist party. Kozlov, who comes from Leningrad, was an active leader of the Leningrad party committee and a close collaborator in the past with Premier Premier Georgi Malenkov.

As a secretary of the Communist Central Committee, Shepilov joins eight other secretaries headed by party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, who has the title of first secretary.

Nikola Semenovich Patolichev, who has been a secretary in the party organization of white Russia, was named a first deputy foreign minister, the post previously held by Gromyko. Patolichev has been a deputy foreign minister since July and is a member of the party's central committee.

Gromyko, who as first deputy to Shepilov's top assistant, is 47 years old and grew up in the Soviet foreign service under Stalin.

He is regarded by Western diplomats as a tough bargainer. He knows the West well.

He served as Soviet ambassador in Washington from 1943 to 1946 and then as the permanent Soviet representative in the United Nations Security Council.

Waterfront Strike Talks Now Teetering
NEW YORK (AP) — The outlook for an end to the Northeast coast waterfront strike continued to teeter between optimism and despair as new talks were set for today.

Since the start of the strike last Tuesday there have been alternate flurries of hope and pessimism emanating from mediators, employers and the striking International Longshoremen's Assn.

Thursday was no exception. High hopes early in the day lapsed into an impasse. Later federal mediator Robert H. Moore said the parties were within "kissing distance."

The 170-member employe group, the New York Shipping Assn., foresaw a strike settlement during the day. ILA President William V. Bradley commented: "We hope to fight it out tonight."

But Thursday night, after negotiations recessed, the union appeared to take a dim view of what the employers termed their "final offer."

That was tempered, however, by ILA counsel Louis Waldman, who indicated progress had been made at the meeting, and added:

"There has been no definite turn-down. We are wrestling with problems of draftsmanship and the meeting of minds on three or four items that have not yet been realized."

Bryan Man Gets Highway Position
COLUMBUS (AP) — George Thormyer, acting state highway director, today announced the appointment of Francis Krohn, 35, of Bryan, as an assistant personnel superintendent of the Ohio Department of Highways.

Krohn is a former assistant attorney general. He served with the U. S. Navy in the South Pacific during World War II.

Nominations To Be by Petition

61 Public Officials To Be Elected Here

Sixty-one public officials, plus eight school board members are to be elected this year in Fayette County, but the balloting will not take place until next Nov. 5.

While candidates, politicians and the voters in much of the rest of Ohio are involved in campaigns for the May primary elections, Fayette Countyans can just sit back as spectators, because no primary is required to select candidates here.

Candidates for office in Fayette County get their names on the ballot through petition. This is because all of the offices to be filled are non-partisan, at least under the state's election laws.

The primary elections are held by the political parties to pick their candidates for the general elections.

In municipalities under 2,000 population, no primary is required and candidates for village offices get on the ballot by petition.

This is the statute that covers the four villages in the county—Bloomington, Jeffersonville, Milfordville and Octa.

In each of these, six councilmen, a clerk and treasurer are to be elected next Nov. 5. Candidates for any of these offices may file their petition any time between now and Aug. 7, the deadline of 90 days before the election.

WASHINGTON C. H., with a population of around 13,000, does not fall into the same category as the four villages, but under the city manager form of municipal government, the council is non-partisan and, consequently, no party primary is necessary to name the candidates.

Councilmen, whose terms expire, are Ronald Cornwell, president, Paul Van Voorhis (who has moved to Chillicothe), B. F. Norris and Floyd Tracey. Those whose terms have two years to run are Robert Sanderson, C. L. Musser and Arthur Matson, who was appointed to fill the seat of the late John Weade.

Other Washington C. H. offices are filled by appointment by council.

Judge Max G. Dice's term as Municipal Court judge expires this year and his place on the bench will have to be filled by the voters of all of Fayette County, except Jeffersonville and Jefferson Twp.

Two trustees are to be elected in each of the county's 10 townships. Candidates for township trustee also get their names on the ballot by petitions which may be filed any time up to Aug. 7.

The other trustee and clerk of each of the townships remain in office for two more years.

AS THINGS stand right now, eight school board members will be elected in November, three for the (Please turn to page two)

Ike Plans Extending Vacation in Georgia

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower is enjoying his trip to south Georgia so much he is going to stay longer than was earlier indicated.

He may not return to Washington until about Feb. 24, two days in advance of the start of conferences with French Premier Guy Mollet.

When Eisenhower arrived a week ago today, it was said he probably would stay 7 to 10 days. He is the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Thursday Eisenhower got in another 18 holes of golf and later brought down three more quail. That has been the pattern every day but Sunday — golf or hunting, sometimes both.

170 Millionth Yankee Counted Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The population of the United States reached an estimated 170 million today with a blinking of lights, a turning of wheels — and with some sobering figures.

The new mark showed on an elaborate electric display in the Commerce Department as a white light flashed a net gain of one in the population, boosting the total to the magic 170 million mark at 11 a. m. EST.

Twelve seconds later, the figure moved on to 170,000,001. It is expected to reach 200 million in 10 years or less.

All this is estimated. Actually the 170 million figure may have been reached several weeks ago. Or maybe it won't be reached until next month. But, until someone comes along with a better system of counting people than the one used by the Census Bureau, today was the day.

About those sobering figures: There now are 7,200 more persons in the United States than there were just 24 hours ago. And tomorrow at this time there will be 7,200 more than today.

The annual rate of population growth in the United States is now just short of three million persons—about the present population of Louisiana or Kentucky. Every month there are enough new people to make up a city of 250,000 — about the size of Syracuse, N. Y., or Richmond, Va.

The vital statistics that measure this country's growth are gathered by the Census Bureau and translated into a series of blinking lights set against a map of the United States.

Every eight seconds a string of blue lights indicates a birth somewhere in the nation. Every 21 seconds the purple lights signify a death. Every two minutes the green lights represent an immigrant reaching the United States. Every 24 minutes the red lights indicate an emigrant's departure.

And every 12 seconds, with all these factors taken into consideration, a white light flashes to show a net population gain of one.

These are only averages. The Census Bureau gets new estimates every month and every year, and applies them to the base of its last regular census—in this case 1950.

New North Africa Accord Is Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—The 27-nation Asian-African group was expected to go into the General Assembly today with a compromise plan aimed at ending French-Algerian strife in North Africa.

The Assembly's 80-nation top Political Committee voted earlier this week against Asian-African demands that France grant Algerians the right to determine their own future.

It then approved two recommendations for French-Algerian talks to try to end the bloodshed. Neither one polled enough votes to assure it a two-thirds majority in the Assembly.

The committee voted 37-27 for a resolution by Japan, the Philippines and Thailand declaring the Algerian situation "may be normalized by the joint efforts of France and the Algerian people to find an equitable solution."

The other, adopted 41-33, recommended that the Assembly voice hope that a "peaceful and democratic solution" could be found.

Further U. N. action to get Israeli troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Sharm el Sheikh area of Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast still was stalled as U. N. diplomats waited word of Israel's reply to the new U. S. proposal on Israeli withdrawal.

An authoritative source in Jerusalem said Premier David Ben-Gurion and his Cabinet had instructed Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban to seek further clarification of Secretary of State Dulles' proposals.

The Israeli Cabinet was said to have agreed that the two-part American offer was a positive approach but still somewhat too general for the Israelis.

Dulles reportedly offered U. S. "support" for freedom of navigation through the Gulf of Aqaba and stationing of U. N. emergency forces in large numbers in the Gaza Strip.

One U. N. diplomat said the Israelis want commitments, not declarations. There was no indication, however, the United States would offer any more.

Mounting Egyptian criticism of the Dulles plan cast further doubt on its future. An Egyptian spokesman announced:

1. The U. N. resolutions of 1948 calling for repatriation of Arab refugees from Israel must be implemented before the question of Israeli ships passing through Egyptian "territorial" waters is discussed. Egypt regards at least the narrow entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba as her territory.

2. Israeli troops must withdraw unconditionally in obedience to the Assembly resolutions.

CLINTON, Tenn. (P)—A dynamite-laden suitcase exploded in the heart of Clinton's Negro section Thursday night, wrecking a restaurant and slightly injuring a Negro woman and baby.

The dynamite charge, which witnesses said was placed by a white man who raced away in a car, also heavily damaged other Negro-owned property.

The blast was the area's eighth, and by far the most destructive, since Clinton High School admitted 12 Negro students under a federal court order last fall.

Gigantic Cargo Plane Unveiled By Air Force

WASHINGTON (P)—The Air Force has unveiled a gigantic new cargo plane, the C132, which will have a speed of more than 460 miles an hour and carry a 200,000-pound payload.

This maximum load is double the lift of the C99, a transport version of the B36 and now the largest American carrier.

The new swept-wing C132, with a load of 100,000 pounds, will have a range of 3,500 miles, can operate from conventional runways.

It will be powered by four jet turbine-propeller engines. The Air Force says each produce about 15,000 horsepower.

Old Stalinist To Deal with Other Nations

Shepilov Is Replaced In Shakeup Reported By Kremlin Bosses

LONDON (P)—Andrei A. Gromyko replaced Dmitri Shepilov today as foreign minister of the Soviet Union. Shepilov returned to his old post as a member of the powerful secretariat of the Soviet Communist Central Committee.

Gromyko, former ambassador to Washington, rose to prominence under the tenure of V. M. Molotov as foreign minister. He is regarded as a Stalinist in his outlook.

Moscow radio, reporting the changes, also revealed that the central committee, meeting in full session Thursday and today, named Frol Romanovich Kozlov as a candidate alternate member of the ruling presidium of the Communist party. Kozlov, who comes from Leningrad, was an active leader of the Leningrad party committee and a close collaborator in the past with former Premier Georgi Malenkov.

As a secretary of the Communist Central Committee, Shepilov joins eight other secretaries headed by party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, who has the title of first secretary.

Nikola Semenovich Patolichev, who has been a secretary in the party organization of white Russia, was named a first deputy foreign minister, the post previously held by Gromyko. Patolichev has been a deputy foreign minister since July and is a member of the party's central committee.

Gromyko, who as first deputy was Shepilov's top assistant, is 47 years old and grew up in the Soviet foreign service under Stalin.

He is regarded by Western diplomats as a tough bargainer. He knows the West well.

He served as Soviet ambassador in Washington from 1943 to 1946 and then as the permanent Soviet representative in the United Nations Security Council.

Waterfront Strike Talks Now Teetering

NEW YORK (P)—The outlook for an end to the Northeast Coast waterfront strike continued to teeter between optimism and despair as new talks were set for today.

Since the start of the strike last Tuesday there have been alternate flurries of hope and pessimism emanating from mediators, employers and the striking International Longshoremen's Assn.

Thursday was no exception. High hopes early in the day lapsed into an impasse. Later federal mediator Robert H. Moore said the parties were within "kissing distance."

The 170-member employe group, the New York Shipping Assn., foresaw a strike settlement during the day. ILA President William V. Bradley commented: "We hope to fight it out tonight."

But Thursday night, after negotiations recessed, the union appeared to take a dim view of what the employers termed their "final offer."

That was tempered, however, by ILA counsel Louis Waldman, who indicated progress had been made at the meeting, and added:

"There has been no definite turn-down. We are wrestling with problems of draftsmanship and the meeting of minds on three or four items that have not yet been realized."

Bryan Man Gets Highway Position

COLUMBUS (P)—George Thormyer, acting state highway director, today announced the appointment of Francis Krohn, 33, of Bryan, as an assistant personnel superintendent of the Ohio Department of Highways.

Krohn is a former assistant attorney general. He served with the U. S. Navy in the South Pacific during World War II.

Phone Strike Negotiations To Resume

COLUMBUS (AP)—Negotiations in the Ohio telephone strike were scheduled to resume here this afternoon. An eight-hour bargaining session Thursday night failed to bring union and management any closer to agreement.

The Communications Workers of America (CWA) went on strike seven months ago today when its contract with Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. expired.

In Portsmouth Thursday, Judge William D. Radcliff of Circleville, sitting by assignment in Scioto County common pleas court, released three more telephone strikers from contempt of court charges filed by Ohio Consolidated.

The phone company alleged the defendants harassed telephone repair crews in Portsmouth Aug. 22, thus violating an injunction granted by Common Pleas Judge James M. Lange Jr. of Adams County.

Dismissed were Gerald Pierson, James Burchfield and Hollie Bloomfield.

Six other strikers were dismissed earlier this week by Judge Radcliff.

Hearing against William Hipple, leader of CWA strikers in the Portsmouth area, is continuing.

Eleven other charges against strikers and 10 against company supervisors remain to be heard.

Company officials charged a woman telephone operator at the Circleville exchange was knocked down by pickets Thursday night when she reported for work. They identified her as Mrs. Donna Redman of Circleville.

A union spokesman denied the charge. The spokesman said Mrs. Redman tripped and that none of the strikers touched her.

Colorado DAR Given Go-Ahead

DENVER (AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution today have the approval of Gov. Steve McNichols to continue their patriotic program in Colorado institutions.

The governor had asked them to suspend the activity after a DAR official said last Saturday she didn't want a "Mexican" boy to carry the American flag.

McNichols met with 17 members of the DAR Denver chapter's executive committee Thursday.

Mrs. Charlotte C. Rush, DAR patriotism chairman, relinquished her post after her remarks about a "Mexican" flag bearer.

The annual festival, scheduled for April 5-7, is built around the county's celebrated maple syrup.

Events Optimists Get Pessimistic

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Union Electric Co. President J. Wesley McAfee cleared his throat at the speaker's table and was ready when the luncheon chairman introduced another man as speaker.

Surprised, McAfee asked the man seated next to him: "Isn't this the Optimists' Club?"

"No," the man said, "this is the Financial Analysts. The Optimists meet down the hall." McAfee, dashed out but was 35 minutes late. "I then, even the Optimists were pessimistic."

Farm Leader Sees Price Law No Good

CHICAGO (AP)—Farm leader Charles B. Shuman said today that farmers have learned farm prices are not made in Washington and "you can't control production of farm commodities by law."

He said the two points were just some of several "lessons" farmers learned in 25 years of "sad experience" with government activities in solving farm problems.

Shuman, of Sullivan, Ill., president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, addressed the annual meeting of Livestock Conservation, Inc.

"Farm prices are made where the consumer accepts or rejects our product," he said.

He questioned Glos' qualifications to reach such conclusions and reiterated that there was no indication of sexual molestation. A second pathologist, Dr. A. C. Webb, said also there was no evidence of sexual molestation or violence.

Glos' superior, coroner Walter J. McCarron, challenged the chief investigator on his qualifications "as a layman" to dispute the medical experts' findings.

"He (Glos) came from the Oak Park Police Department, and I came from the trucking business," McCarron said. "Those men (the pathologists and the toxicologists) are scientists. We do not have their background."

Patients Remembered On Valentine's Day

There was no doubt in the minds of patients in Memorial Hospital here that Thursday was Valentine's Day — a 4-H club and group of Camp Fire Girls saw to that.

The 16 members of the Wilson Country Sisters 4-H club made dainty little baskets in the Valentine theme and filled them with red hearts. They were placed on the lunch trays at noon. Mrs. Frank Dill and Mrs. Richard Rankin are the club's advisors.

Just before lunch, book markers of laced hearts made by the Tawanka Camp Fire Girls were taken to all the patients by the nurses. Mrs. Robert Woodmansee is the group leader.

Miss Christene Evans, hospital administrator, said the nurses had told her they had heard many comments by the patients on the attractiveness of the bookmarkers and baskets.

Miss Evans said all the patients were appreciative and quoted one as saying: "We knew it was Valentine's Day, because we never got anything like this at home."

Unofficial returns from 660 of the Union's approximately 2,700 locals in the U. S. and Canada give McDonald 155,997 votes to 73,632 for Rarick.

International union tellers have until May 1 to complete the tally.

McDonald has not claimed victory and Rarick isn't conceding defeat but, on the basis of the unofficial returns, it was indicated McDonald would win his second consecutive four-year term.

The three members of the Fayette County board whose terms expire are H. B. Lightle, Hugh B. Sollars and Nathaniel Tway. Carroll Ritenour and Cloyd C. Craig remain on the board for another two years.

Terms of J. Herbert Perrill, Robert Owens and Gordon Cowdry on the Miami Trace board expire this year. Candidates for their seats will get on the ballot by petition. Taylor Groff and Richard Snyder run for two more years.

Robert Terhune and William A. Lovell are now in the last year of their terms on the Washington C. H. school board, but terms of Elmer Reed, Charles Pensyl and Milbourne Flee do not expire until 1959.

While all candidates for next November's election get on the ballot by petitions bearing not less than 25 nor more than 50 signatures of qualified voters, candidates for county offices two years from now, in 1959, will be chosen at party primaries.

Medical Findings

He questioned Glos' qualifications to reach such conclusions and reiterated that there was no indication of sexual molestation. A second pathologist, Dr. A. C. Webb, said also there was no evidence of sexual molestation or violence.

Glos' superior, coroner Walter J. McCarron, challenged the chief investigator on his qualifications "as a layman" to dispute the medical experts' findings.

"He (Glos) came from the Oak Park Police Department, and I came from the trucking business," McCarron said. "Those men (the pathologists and the toxicologists) are scientists. We do not have their background."

"I WILL go on refusing food until I die," was the word from Dr. Doria Shafik, 38, Egypt's famed feminist leader. Admitting she is fighting a battle "doomed even before it began," she said she would fast till the Israelis withdrew from all Egyptian territory, till there is a settlement of the Arab refugee problem, and till there is an end to Egypt's "dictatorship," which she charges is driving the nation to "destruction." Patients Remembered On Valentine's Day

There was no doubt in the minds of patients in Memorial Hospital here that Thursday was Valentine's Day — a 4-H club and group of Camp Fire Girls saw to that.

The 16 members of the Wilson Country Sisters 4-H club made dainty little baskets in the Valentine theme and filled them with red hearts. They were placed on the lunch trays at noon. Mrs. Frank Dill and Mrs. Richard Rankin are the club's advisors.

Just before lunch, book markers of laced hearts made by the Tawanka Camp Fire Girls were taken to all the patients by the nurses. Mrs. Robert Woodmansee is the group leader.

Miss Christine Evans, hospital administrator, said the nurses had told her they had heard many comments by the patients on the attractiveness of the bookmarkers and baskets.

Miss Evans said all the patients were appreciative and quoted one as saying: "We knew it was Valentine's Day, because we never got anything like this at home."

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Florida officials asked Bowling Green police to check the background of a young man scheduled to take a bar examination in that state.

Detective Harry Ashby looked him up and found his record exemplary.

The man was born in Bowling Green in 1931 — and moved away at the age of 13 days.

McDonald Winning In Steel Election

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Although an official returns trickled in slowly from Tuesday's United Steelworkers election President David J. McDonald seemed assured today of reelection in his contest with Donald C. Rarick, a Pittsburgh district steelworker.

Unofficial returns from 660 of the Union's approximately 2,700 locals in the U. S. and Canada gave McDonald 155,997 votes to 73,632 for Rarick.

International union tellers have until May 1 to complete the tally. McDonald has not claimed victory and Rarick isn't conceding defeat but, on the basis of the unofficial returns, it was indicated McDonald would win his second consecutive four-year term.

200 at Dairy Banquet Here

Frank Dill
Selected for 1957 President

Frank Dill, dairy director from Union Township, was selected by the board of directors to serve as the president of the Fayette County Dairy Herd Improvement Assn., for 1957 following annual meeting and banquet Thursday evening at the Washington Country Club here.

Elmer Hinkle, an executive of the Cincinnati Union Stockyards, was the speaker of the evening. He based his remarks on "What Does The Future Hold For Me?"

Hinkle pointed out that "Life goes on, it always has and always will. It is up to each individual to choose the direction his life is going to take." He stated that it is "necessary for each one of us to have a purpose in our work and, due to the peculiar and complex problems which are facing our society, a greater cooperation and unity of purpose is needed today more than ever before." He especially noted the great need and demand for leadership among agricultural people.

HE DECLARED "there is too much fear in our thinking" and made four suggestions to combat it.

According to Hinkle faith is necessary, faith in God and in humanity and in the individual. He suggested "we would get a job done if we have enthusiasm."

The third ingredient he mentioned was ambition. He pointed out that "too many people today have the philosophy that the world owes me a living and I want something for nothing."

In contrast to this philosophy, he suggested that people should have an ambition to work and accomplish good.

The fourth ingredient suggested was resourcefulness. "People with ideas are being paid big money," Hinkle reminded.

RICHARD KELLOGG, manager of the Central Ohio Breeding Association, reported on the activities of his organization during 1956. He said the organization came into being in 1946 and that the first year 22,000 cows were serviced. During last year 172,000 first services were made, he said.

Kellogg urged the dairymen to get their income from high producers. His prediction for the future was that there would be fewer cows, less milk and less work.

Dale Smith, COBA technician for Fayette County, presented 100 and 200 cow club certificates to: 200 cow club - Bobana Farms, Gerald Straley and 100 cow club - Wilbur Dumford, Forest Haines, Loren Green, Marion Binegar, Leonard Watts and Charles Gibeault.

Grover, associate county agent, submitted the Dairy Herd Improvement Association report.

During 1956 there were 528 cows on production testing in Fayette County, he said. The top herd was a Holstein herd owned by Elmer Haymaker, Route 5, with an average milk production of 15,002 pounds a 55nd13 pounds of butterfat.

The top individual cow is a registered Holstein, owned by Bobana Farms. In the 305 day period, she produced 20,080 pounds of milk with 38 pounds of fat.

The top butterfat cow was a Brown Swiss with 18,010 pounds of milk and a butterfat record of 631 pounds. She is owned by Marvin Dement.

MUSICAL entertainment for the evening was furnished by the "Three Teens" of Wayne Township. Genie O'rihood of New Holland, Barbara Sue Kneisley, Jackie Hoppes, Edna Mae Hoppes composed the "Three Teens". They were accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Hoppes.

Directors elected for a two year term were Charles Gibeault, Madison Twp.; Donald Rife, Green Twp.; Albert Caplinger, Perry Twp.; Hugh Wilson, Concord Twp.; Rex Bloomer, Paint Twp. These directors join the five who have one year remaining on their term: Frank Dill, Union Twp.; Robert Klever, Marion Twp.; Bill Kearney, Wayne Twp.; Marvin Dement, Jefferson Twp.; and Joe Saville, Jasper Twp.

The robins are coming back; so, spring can't be far behind.

Two reports came into the Record-Herald today. One of them was from Mrs. Dorothy Swackhammer of Bloomingburg and the other was from Tommy Smalley, 1227 S. Main St. here.

Mrs. Swackhammer said that while she was talking on the telephone she could look out the window of her home and see a robin hopping around the back yard. It was, she said, pecking away at the still-brown grass in the patches from which the snow had melted. "A bunch of kids has been watching it," she added.

Smalley, who spends his life in a wheelchair as the result of polio, said he had seen a few robins for nearly a week while going from his home to his radio repair workshop at the back of the lot.

"They (the robins) make you think of baseball," Smalley said. He has been the kingpin of the amateur sport hereabouts for a good many years. He also has been the manager of the Good Hope semi-pro team for some time.

GOP Solon Raps Ike Veto Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) voiced sharp opposition today to a proposal that President Eisenhower be given power to veto individual items in money bills.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he is going along with Sen. Ford (D-Va.) and Williams (R-Del.) in their efforts to cut Eisenhower's $71.8 billion spending budget. But Bridges said he doesn't want any President to have the power his colleagues propose.

"If this were written into the Constitution, you might as well give up the legislative branch of government," he said.

Curb on Newsmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) has protested "what seems to be an unwarranted policy," he said, of denying passports for American newsmen to visit Communist China.

Hennings Thursday termed such a State Department policy "clearly contrary to our nation's best interests."

Hennings said the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee, which he heads, plans to push "vigorously" an investigation of the situation.

One Man's Idea as to Our Scientist Shortage

The cry of industry, schools and most forward looking people everywhere in this nation today seems concentrated on the need for more scientists.

People are being told that Russia is beating us to the punch in developing engineers and other experts on the technological front in the so-called Cold War.

We are advised that we are fighting our near-critical alleged scientist shortage mainly through efforts to interest more high school and college students in science.

Whether or not this situation is being over-emphasized is hard for the average individual to be certain, but one man says we are not approaching the future solution to this problem in the right way. He has come up with what sounds like a reasonable answer.

This man is Dr. Howard F. Fehr, head of the Mathematics Department of Columbia University's Teachers College, and president of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

One of the world's foremost mathematicians, Dr. Fehr contends that indifference to science begins much earlier than high school. The source, he says, is elementary school arithmetic, the bedrock foundation of all technology.

He indicates a belief that much of the arithmetic taught today is an outdated and thoroughly discredited "rote" system that stifles the two elements vital to interest: meaning and enjoyment.

It's no wonder, Dr. Fehr points out, that the third of the three "Rs" is "Number One on a child's Hate Parade", and that this dislike continues when arithmetic's principles are translated into chemical formulae and laws of physics.

Last year, Dr. Fehr conducted a controlled group experiment in the fifth grade of the Cedar Grove, N. J., Memorial School. Pupils in four classes studied arithmetic with conventional methods; in another four classes, students used an "Educator", a pint-size calculating machine designed exclusively for school use.

At the end of the 4½ month project, statistics from daily reports revealed that the pupils using the Educator made gains of nearly half an entire school year—in both computation and reasoning—over the youngsters studying with the old method. What's more, the machine-taught children genuinely enjoyed themselves.

Dr. Fehr's revolutionary method may not be entirely foolproof—it's too early to tell. But it clearly demands serious consideration by everyone concerned with bringing arithmetic into the 20th Century and turning our shortage of scientists into an abundance.

The experiment described herein is a most significant and timely development in the search for solutions to this major dilemma.

Paris Eyes California Wine

PARIS (AP)—It's not easy, but you can get California wine in Paris.

Two Americans found this out at the cost of much cajoling and several fistfuls of francs. They had read that Louis Vaudable, proprietor of Maxim's Restaurant, told Los Angeles newsmen: "Of course, we have California wines in Paris and they are excellent. It's simply that no one orders them."

Well, Vaudable is perhaps two-thirds right. A visit to Maxim's brought these results:

At first the sommelier (wine steward) was rather definite. No, Maxim's had no California wine. In fact, Maxim's had no wines. No Portuguese wines, foreign wines. No Spanish wines. No Portuguese wines.

Well, yes, they did have a few German Rhine wines, but they were for German tourists.

But what about Vaudable's statement about California wine?

There was a hurried consultation, a long pause, a long absence, and behold, there were two dusty bottles of California white wine (from Vaudable's own private collection, it seems).

Soon there was a crowd of waiters around the table. They were curious about this strange vintage. They were more curious about the people who might order it. Well, you know how Americans are. Would they have a sip? Curiosity was stronger than disdain.

"A little small," commented a sommelier as he took a sip. Another remarked that it seemed a trifle "flatter" than the French equivalent but that it was more agreeable when very cold. Another said that it seemed "lighter" than French white.

The boys were doing their level best to be polite. When it came time for red wine, the sommelier came up with a Louis Martini Napa Barbra 1942.

The headwaiter, Albert, came over to oversee this. Good color, he conceded. Albert bravely asserted that Maxim's had had California wine for years and had been serving it all the time to connoisseurs.

An assistant dropped tact. It wasn't bad, he said, but why should anyone come all the way from the United States to drink California wine? When he comes home he is rather pale and complains of a frontal headache. Surveys show that many times such headaches are precipitated by emotional or physical exertion, movies, television or bright sunshine. Anyway, his mother gives him

Passports and Press Freedom

Unquestionably newspapermen will and must fight against any measure which is a limitation on freedom of the press. Therefore it is right and proper that newspapermen's organizations should protest anything that appears to be a deprivation of the rights of American correspondents to travel where they choose and under whatever circumstances.

On the other hand, the question does arise as to what are the rights of any government in relation to the documents which it issues to its own citizens.

In the matter of the three newspaper correspondents who traveled into Red China without proper visas, Morris Ernst, the lawyer, wrote a learned opinion for the Overseas Press Club which is very interesting, but it seems to me that he misses the central point altogether, namely, that a passport is the possession of the government of the United States and that whoever applies for and accepts a passport does so on the terms of issuance. That is fully within the rights of the government and if Morris Ernst would consult either John Bassett Moore or Green Haywood Hackworth's works, which are standard on the subject, he would discover that the issuer of a passport has the authority of state its terms.

Therefore quoting the Fifth Amendment or even the Magna Charta, as he does, to prove a point, does not serve and is ultra vires because the person who receives a passport is free to refuse it if the terms are unsatisfactory to him. Ernst seems to be making his own law, whereas that is actually the function of Congress.

Passports recently issued contain the legend "this passport is not valid for travel to Albania, Bulgaria, China, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Rumania or the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics unless specifically endorsed under authority of Department of State as being valid for such travel." This is printed in large type and is put in a box for emphasis. Whoever accepts a passport accepts it on these terms.

If he desires an exception, he should apply for an exception. If he wishes to file a protest, he should file a protest. But to carry this document into prohibited territory is a violation of the terms of acceptance.

On the back flap of the passport appears the following:

"A person to whom a passport has been issued, who uses or attempts to use it in violation of the conditions or restrictions contained therein, may have the protection of the United States withdrawn from him while he continues to reside abroad and may be liable for prosecution under the provisions of section 1544 of title 18, United States Code."

Whoever receives a United States passport accepts it on those terms. What these newspapermen could have done when they wanted to move into Red China was to deposit their passports with American Consular officials, travelling into forbidden territory on their own.

There was a time in American history when the possession of a passport meant protection. During my many years in China, the U. S. passport was a valuable document because it meant protection and protection was forthcoming when needed. Such service is no longer available to Americans anywhere in the world but that does not lessen either the responsibility of the government or the obligation of the citizen.

Morris Ernst says: "The State Department contends that a newspaper correspondent sacrifices, or at least reduces, his freedom of the press when he leaves our shores, and that such sacrifice is imposed by its mandates and does not solely arise because of restrictions laid down by other sovereigns. . . . This is nonsense and is said because it sounds plausible. It is the sort of argument a lawyer might make to a jury for want of a better one. The State Department does not deny freedom of the press, but it does question whether one American has more rights under the law than another because of his trade and it denies the virtue of such inequality. When a newspaperman applies for and receives a passport he is no different from a tourist seeking scenery and a businessman buying toys. The law must be equal for all. The question at issue therefore is not whether newspapermen are to expect and enjoy special privileges but what a passport is under the law. (Copyright, 1955, King Features Syndicate Inc.)

Sen. Bricker Seeks To Assist Greek

CLEVELAND (AP)—Special legislation has been introduced in Congress by Sen. John Bricker to save a young U. S. Army veteran from being deported to his native Greece.

Evan Kargiotis, 25, an engineering student at Fenn College here, came to this country in 1953 on an educational visa. He later joined the U. S. Army in an attempt to win U. S. citizenship. A technicality upset his citizenship plans and he now faces deportation unless the special legislation is passed by Congress before March 5.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Most children have headaches from time to time. That's not too unusual.

But if your youngster has them regularly, or even frequently, better have him see your physician. It may be migraine.

Surprisingly enough, children can have migraines just as readily as adults. In fact, cases of migraine have been reported in children only 1½ years old.

Average Case

A Mayo Clinic study by Drs. Edmund C. Burke and Gustavus A. Peters has developed an "average" case of child migraine. Let's see how your youngster compares to this average case.

Generally, attacks occur in a 7-year-old boy, although ages, of course, vary and girls can be stricken almost as readily as boys. This young migraine victim is a good student, but he is nervous and somewhat emotional.

His headaches usually begin in the afternoon, most frequently during school months.

Frontal Headache

When he comes home he is rather pale and complains of a frontal headache. Surveys show that many times such headaches are precipitated by emotional or physical exertion, movies, television or bright sunshine. Anyway, his mother gives him an aspirin and puts him to bed. Since the light seems to bother him, she darkens the room.

Before long, the youngster becomes nauseated and vomits several times. However, all cases of migraine don't bring on vomiting.

Then some youngsters complain of dizziness, fever, blurred vision and frequent urination. But this, as I said is the average case.

Eventually, the child falls asleep. When he awakens in the morning the migraine is gone. This same pattern in the average patient is repeated every two or three weeks.

Free in Summer

During summer vacation, however, he may be completely free from such distress.

The mother of this average migraine case also experiences migraine headaches, usually about once every month, except during pregnancy.

So check your youngster's headache reports against this average case of migraine. If you see any similarity at all, consult your doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

T. F.: Can a neurosis cause ulcerative colitis?

Answer: There is some evidence that nervous disorders have a relationship to ulcerative colitis. However, the exact cause for this condition has not, as yet, been discovered.

House Ag Panel Hits Deadlock

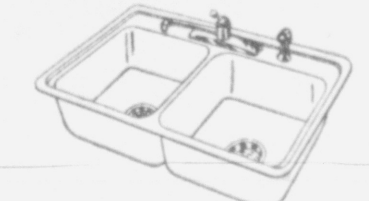

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee in a political deadlock, Thursday dropped indefinitely its effort to work out legislation to stabilize corn prices and production.

The seeming no-compromise stand endangered, temporarily at least, enactment of an emergency corn program in time to be effective before spring planting starts.

Democrats, in the majority, voted for supplemental soil bank benefits to pay both corn and non-corn farmers for cutting down production of corn and a variety of other grains.

will and must fight against any measure which is a limitation on freedom of the press. Therefore it is right and proper that newspapermen's organizations should protest anything that appears to be a deprivation of the rights of American correspondents to travel where they choose and under whatever circumstances.

On the other hand, the question does arise as to what are the rights of any government in relation to the documents which it issues to its own citizens.

In the matter of the three newspaper correspondents who traveled into Red China without proper visas, Morris Ernst, the lawyer, wrote a learned opinion for the Overseas Press Club which is very interesting, but it seems to me that he misses the central point altogether, namely, that a passport is the possession of the government of the United States and that whoever applies for and accepts a passport does so on the terms of issuance. That is fully within the rights of the government and if Morris Ernst would consult either John Bassett Moore's or Green Haywood Hackworth's works, which are standard on the subject, he would discover that the issuer of a passport has the authority of state its terms.

Therefore quoting the Fifth Amendment or even the Magna Charta, as he does, to prove a point, does not serve and is ultra vires because the person who receives a passport is free to refuse it if the terms are unsatisfactory to him. Ernst seems to be making his own law, whereas that is actually the function of Congress.

Passports recently issued contain the legend "this passport is not valid for travel to Albania, Bulgaria, China, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Rumania or the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics unless specifically endorsed under authority of Department of State as being valid for such travel." This is printed in large type and is put in a box for emphasis. Whoever accepts a passport accepts it on these terms.

If he desires an exception, he should apply for an exception. If he wishes to file a protest, he should file a protest. But to carry

Dulles Deer Killing Story Brings Denial

TORONTO (AP) — Spokesmen for

A U. S. State Department

Dulles has never shot a deer on has been "very scrupulous" about everyone else obeying game laws there.

Ross L. Fisher, a Liberal On-

Air Force, VA At Odds on Jet Deafness

This statement, prepared by the

The Air Force statement clashed with reports from Veterans Ad-numbers of civilians as well.

The air surgeon general's office said that during the past seven years "only about 50 persons were discharged from the Air Force primarily for hearing defects."

The VA lists 94,233 veterans as receiving disability payments for loss of hearing and diseases of hearing.

The aircraft industry group, contending that this total includes veterans of all services dating back to the Spanish American War, said
"only a small portion of the hearing disabilities could possibly be attributed to jet noise."

Lovely Colonial Tea Is Held By DAR Members

More than one hundred Daughters and guests attended the Colonial Tea, one of the highlights of the activities for the year of William Horney Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution of Jeffersonville, which was held at the Methodist Church in Jeffersonville Wednesday afternoon.

The featured speaker was the Honorary State Regent Mrs. Ralph O. Whitaker of London, who was the organizing regent of the William Horney Chapter and is an associate member of the chapter.

Regent, Miss Louise Fults opened the meeting in ritualistic manner with Mrs. John Robbins, chaplain, conducting the devotions using the Chapter Devotion from the Ohio DAR News by Mrs. Martin Cornley, State Chapter, Mrs. Verne Foster, chairman of Correct Use of the Flag of the United States of America, led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and Mrs. Cecil Long led the group in the singing of the national anthem.

Miss Fults expressed in her charming manner the sincere pleasure of the chapter in having so many guests present, and she introduced the honorary guests and visiting regents, Mrs. Whitaker of London, Southwest District Director Mrs. Charles Lee Mills of Dayton, State Chairman of Advertising and the Regent of Circleville Chapter, Miss Marie L. Hamilton; State Chairman of Transportation Mrs. Loren Hynes of Washington Court House; Regent of the London Chapter Mrs. Esta Gallagher; Regent of Juliana White Chapter of Greenfield Mrs. William E. Davis; Mrs. Thomas Parrett the regent of the Washington Court House Chapter.

The President General's Message was read by Mrs. John Cannon in which she expressed the sincere concern for the importance of a Declaration of American History Month for month of February, in order to impress our youth of the need for patriotism, which in our country is Americanism, thus making it harder to indoctrinate our youth with communism.

The State Regent's message was read by Mrs. Marvin Stockwell, also stressing the importance of February as American History Month and she urged all chairmen to get their reports completed for the state conference, and also reservations are to be sent now for the conference which will be held at the Dayton Biltmore Hotel, March 18, 19, 20.

Mrs. Ralph N. Agle, chairman of National Defense, gave her report using a paper on "Hungarian Refugees." The regent then introduced Mr. Walter Hurd, music supervisor of the Jeffersonville School who presented a group of girls singing two numbers, "Fair Land of Freedom," and "I am An American."

They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Sarah Due Davidson.

A piano solo "Valse," by Carolyn Kay Ritenour was followed by a vocal solo "God Touched The Rose," by Mrs. G. Max Morrow accompanied by Mrs. John Baird.

The regent then expressed the regret for Mrs. Charles R. Petree, state vice regent, who was to have been the guest speaker for the meeting, but due to illness was unable to attend. She had contacted Mrs. Whitaker who so graciously consented to substitute for her.

Mrs. Whitaker brought a most interesting and enlightening message on "Genealogy and Heraldry," a subject in which she is most interested. She gave the genealogy record of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, as it is known to the present time. She also told of the Coat of Arms of both families. She described the origin of the Order of the Purple Heart under Washington and stated that only three American soldiers received it at that time. During the World War this award was revised and at the present time there are many soldiers so honored. In her closing remarks she touched on the inspiration leading to the origin of the First Flag and read a short article "America's Front Door Policy."

The regent announced any contributions of articles for the bazaar for State Junior members to be held at the state conference, should be taken to the home of Mrs. Robert Little, the Junior Membership chairman, not later than February 26th. She also urged all Daughters to attend church, Sunday, February 24th. Due to state conference in March there will be no chapter meeting during that month.

Following the meeting, the regent invited the honored guests and members and their guests to the church dining room where a lovely tea table had been prepared by Mrs. Warren W. Williams, assisted by Mrs. Paul Knisley.

Guests attending from surrounding communities included Circleville, Greenfield, Cedarville, South Charleston, Bloomington, several from Jeffersonville and also Washington C. H.

Americanism Program Topic For Progress Club Meeting

The Progress Club members met with Mrs. Margaret Morrow of Jeffersonville with Mrs. Katherine Baird, Mrs. Ritenour, Mrs. Martha Ready, Mrs. Emma Vannorsdall, Mrs. Mildred Pent, Mrs. Myrtle Williams and Mrs. Mabel Williamson as guests.

In keeping with the patriotic theme for February the program was concentrated on the subject "Americanism". Each one present responded with a quotation by Abraham Lincoln.

Ray Henley, news commentator, by way of film, presented to the club a conversation with the ex-president Herbert Hoover. As the two sat in the library dedicated to "War and Peace" at Leland Stanford University they were surrounded by many works of art that had been collected by Mr. and Mrs. Hoover during their years of travel and millions of documents compiled and presented for posterity through his untiring efforts. The war memoirs and daily diaries of several European generals are included in the collection.

Herbert Hoover was born in the state of Iowa of Quaker parents and was orphaned at the age of eight years. He then lived for seven years with an uncle, a country doctor in Oregon and began to make his way by serving as the office boy. Because of the interest and encouragement of an older man, he applied for entrance at engineering school at Leland Stanford University. During his student days and for six months after graduation he worked in the mines of California. Then his career as a mining engineer began and he spent many years developing mines in Australia, India, Russia, China and elsewhere.

His experiences in living and working with many nationalities in various parts of the world fitted him for the position of organizer and director of Belgian Relief. Again and again he has been called upon to direct aid and feed the hungry at home and overseas.

Mr. Hoover firmly believes that hunger and dire poverty among the children of the world breed the pirates, gangsters and criminals of our society. The friendship and help he received as an orphan and as he was training to be an engineer, has intensified his desire to lend a hand to help others. He has organized many boys clubs in the slum areas and furnished the facilities for the healthy development of growing youngsters.

In all public work and government service he has not excepted a salary for his personal use. At times such a salary has been turned into the relief work he was performing. Mr. Hoover said he was always glad to get back home to the only country in the world where real freedom of the individual exists, and where there is the opportunity for a youngster to grow up unhampered by the traditions and superstitions of the ages.

From this chat with Ray Henley, each member present retained a vivid memory of the great humanitarian of our age — Herbert Hoover — as he sat in front of his presidential flag in the library at Leland Stanford University.

Program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Ralph Denen who opened with a prayer and the following readings: "Remember Washington," by Mrs. Charles Miller; "George Washington," by Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside and "Abraham Lincoln," given by Mrs. Denen.

Mrs. Nellie Coe of this city, served as hostess assisted by Mrs. Gene Coe, and for the serving of a salad course members were seated at one long table, which was centered with a green and white bouquet of gladioli.

Mrs. Everett Milstead was included as a guest.

A piano solo "Valse" by Carolyn Kay Ritenour was followed by a vocal solo "God Touched the Rose," by Mrs. G. Max Mouché accompanied by Mrs. John Baird.
The regent then expressed the regret for Mrs. Charles R. Petree, state vice regent, who was to have been the guest speaker for the meeting, but due to illness was unable to attend. She had contacted Mrs. Whitaker who so graciously consented to substitute for her. Mrs. Whitaker brought a most interesting and enlightening message on "Genealogy and Heraldry," a subject in which she is most interested. She gave the genealogy record of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, as it is known to the present time. She also told of the Coat of Arms of both families. She described the origin of the Order of the Purple Heart under Washington and stated that only three American soldiers received it at that time. During the World War this award was revised and at the present time there are many soldiers so honored. In her closing remarks she touched on the inspiration leading to the origin of the First Flag and read a short article "America's Front Door Policy."
The regent announced any contributions of articles for the bazaar for State Junior members to be held at the state conference, should be taken to the home of Mrs. Robert Little, the Junior Membership chairman, not later than February 26th. She also urged all Daughters to attend church, Sunday, February 24th. Due to state conference in March there will be no chapter meeting during that month.
Following the meeting, the regent invited the honored guests and members and their guests to the church dining room where a lovely tea table had been prepared by Mrs. Warren W. Williams, assisted by Mrs. Paul Knisley.
Guests attending from surrounding communities included Circleville, Greenfield, Cedarville, South Charleston, Bloomingburg, several from Jeffersonville and also Washington C. H.

as he was training to be an engineer, has intensified his desire to lend a hand to help others. He has organized many boys clubs in the slum areas and furnished the facilities for the healthy development of growing youngsters.
In all public work and government service he has not excepted a salary for his personal use. At times such a salary has been turned into the relief work he was performing. Mr. Hoover said he was always glad to get back home to the only country in the world where real freedom of the individual exists, and where there is the opportunity for a youngster to grow up unhampered by the traditions and superstitions of the ages.
From this chat with Ray Henley, each member present retained a vivid memory of the great humanitarian of our age — Herbert Hoover — as he sat in front of his presidential flag in the library at Leland Stanford University.

Home Builders Class Meets at Campbell Home
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell entertained members of the Home Builders Class of the Madison Mills Methodist Church for the February meeting.
The president, Mrs. Wayne Shobe, presided and opened the meeting with the group singing "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah". She also read Scripture from the Thirteenth Chapter of Matthew. Mrs. Shobe chose as her topic for the devotion "Kingdom Parables For Today," the subject of Sunday, February 17 Sunday School lesson. She gave some interesting background material on the lesson, assisted by Mrs. Glen Hidy who read an article entitled "How The Kingdom Grows," and Mrs. Walter Butcher reading "Discovering Riches". The hymn "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone", followed by a prayer by Mrs. Shobe closed the study period.
The class voted to make a contribution to the Methodist Seminary Fund and they were also in favor of holding the next meeting on Sunday evening March 10th instead of the regular date. Secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Frank Barrett.
Mrs. Walter Butcher conducted interesting contests associated with the lives of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington.
During the social period the host and hostess were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barrett and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Dorn in serving delicious refreshments to twenty-seven members and one visitor.
The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shobe.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Because of the deep interest now centering on gas and oil in Fayette County (or should I say under Fayette County) I have given considerable information regarding exploration for oil and gas, and some of the unusual things found while drilling for water within the county.

I do not believe I have told you about a well drilled for water within 100 yards of the flowing well at the former Stewart School property, Route 22, three miles east of Washington C. H.

When the well was down 38 feet, I am told, a pocket of gas was encountered in the clay. It exploded with such force that it threw mud and water over part of the house nearby.

It was evident that the gas was coming from fissures in the bedrock some distance below the point where it was struck by the drill.

The well was drilled much deeper, plenty of water was found, and I understand some gas still comes from the well.

It is possible that gas pressure might be a reason for the flowing well at the former school house.

It is all the more interesting to learn of the gas pocket so near the surface three miles east of Washington C. H., because the greatest deviation in gravity in the state of Ohio was found two miles east of Washington C. H.

Scientists apparently are puzzled over this deviation in gravity, but agree that it is caused by something near the surface.

SPILES AND POPGUNS

I know the above sounds like a funny caption, but that is just what this article is about.

In the earlier days when large numbers of maple trees were tapped for their sap from which maple sugar and syrup were made, the easiest and best spiles for running the sap from the auger holes in the trees into the sap collection buckets, or (very early) gourds, were made from the trunk or body of alder bushes.

It was an easy matter to cut the spiles, or spigots, to be inserted in the trees into proper length, cut away the upper half of part of the spile, and then force the pith out with a stick, leaving a hollow tube through which the sap ran into the containers.

Some early residents also used the sumac for the same purpose.

Where the "popguns" came in (mentioned in the heading of this article) was the fact that every boy who lived close to a woods where alders grew knew he could always make a popgun out of the branches of the alder bushes.

It was an easy matter, for some of the joints of the alder were 12 inches or more apart. By cutting out the joints and pushing out the pith of the alder, the barrel of the popgun was ready for use.

Then a stick, cut or whittled so it could be inserted in the tube, was made ready. Paper was fashioned into wads which fitted tightly in the hollow alder stick and another wad of wet paper inserted so it also would be tight. When the ramrod shoved one of the wads into the barrel with sudden force, the wad of paper would fly out the other end of the tube with a pronounced bang.

I have seen these hard paper wads fly 15 or 20 feet when an expert "gunner" was handling the popguns.

They were great playthings for the youngsters. As I recall, the most difficult thing was to find sufficient ammunition (newspapers) to operate the homemade popguns.

lasted year in and year out, until flood conditions finally carried some of the timber further down stream to form a new dam elsewhere.

Paint Creek, for instance, flowed through dense forests most of its length and these "log jams," or dams, formed by fallen trees must have been much in evidence.

It was no wonder that the early settlers found hordes of mosquitoes and suffered from diseases spread by the insects.

It was a great many years after the first white settlers came into this area before the stream beds could be freed of the vast amount of timber so that the channels would carry the water off without interruption and release thousands of acres for cultivation when the water drained from the swamps.

One of the greatest swamp areas in the county was in Rattlesnake Creek valley and for some distance north of the present CCC Highway. The area was known as "Tweedle Swamp" and was covered with cattails and other water growth, to say nothing of rank grass and a wide variety of shrubbery, including willows, alders, etc.

Back 75 years ago some of the swamp land west of Rattlesnake Creek, was selling for $1 an acre.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first question that can be fairly put to the newly reorganized American Communist party is: Whom do you think you're kidding?

All the party did at its New York convention this week was to rearrange the furniture to make itself look like a native, national American party, concerned only with American welfare and no longer a Russian agent.

That's exactly what Moscow a year ago told Western Communist parties to do. The reason was simple: everywhere they had run into stone walls and their membership was dwindling.

If they could change their front they might be able to work with, and infiltrate, other groups — like labor, Socialists, liberals — which would have nothing to do with them so long as they were plainly Moscow errand boys.

Thus at the very moment of declaring itself its own man at last, the American party was following the new Russian post-Stalin line just as slavishly as it had followed Stalin while he was alive.

The Russians — after seeing what a little taste of independence had done among Polish and Hungarian Communists who had taken Moscow's advice too literally — did not want other parties to go too far.

The American Communist party didn't go too far. Since Russia's bloody intrusion in Hungary, the party's newspaper, the Daily

Worker, under the editorship of John Gates, had been critical of Moscow.

The press was barred from the convention in New York. But it can be said on the best authority of a single resolution adopted at the convention was critical of Russia.

And Gates barely got himself elected to the new 17-man administrative committee which will now boss the party. The party leadership, despite some rearranging, remains the same.

Until the convention William Z. Foster had been chairman for years, just as Eugene Dennis had been secretary. They had caused dissension among rank-and-file party members by the nature of their leadership.

Under them the party had reached the edge of disaster, suffering tremendous membership losses and finding itself isolated from all other groups in American life.

As a sop to the dissatisfied, Foster and Dennis were stripped of their titles but would up on the administrative committee just the same. This is supposed to be a kind of collective leadership. That's what the Russians have.

They set it up after Stalin's death.

In the past the American Communist party had attracted many intellectuals. It should have small appeal to intellectuals in the future if they have any morality.

The American party stands intellectually degraded to a degree almost unbelievable among thinking people. It has never questioned Stalin, either on his tactics, his interpretation or his murders until his successors in the Kremlin denounced him and revealed him.

Then the American Communists acted surprised. It had as one of them said at the convention, always considered that what the Russian party did was "ipso facto valid." This was a complete confession that the American Communist party had abdicated thinking.

Budapest is the largest city in Hungary and is situated on both banks of the Danube River; Buda on one side and Pest on the other.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite; robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Columbus Jury Pondering Case

COLUMBUS (AP) — A seven-man, five-woman jury begins deliberating today in the trial of Harry Parrett, 18, charged with the Dec. 1 knife slaying of Adam Bojaski, 22, in a brawl here.

The Columbus youth is charged with second degree murder. Testifying in his own defense at Franklin County court Thursday, Parrett said he stabbed Bojaski, also of Columbus, in self-defense.

The trees and brush clogged many of the creeks until they formed veritable dams which lasted year in and year out, until flood conditions finally carried some of the timber further down stream to form a new dam elsewhere.

Paint Creek, for instance, flowed through dense forests most of its length and these "log jams," or dams, formed by fallen trees must have been much in evidence.

It was no wonder that the early settlers found hordes of mosquitoes and suffered from diseases spread by the insects.

It was a great many years after the first white settlers came into this area before the stream beds could be freed of the vast amount of timber so that the channels would carry the water off without interruption and release thousands of acres for cultivation when the water drained from the swamps.

One of the greatest swamp areas in the county was in Rattlesnake Creek valley and for some distance north of the present CCC Highway. The area was known as "Tweedle Swamp" and was covered with cat-tails and other water growth, to say nothing of rank grass and a wide variety of shrubbery, including willows, alders, etc.

Back 75 years ago some of the swamp land west of Rattlesnake Creek, was selling for $1 an acre.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first question that can be fairly put to the newly reorganized American Communist party is: Whom do you think you're kidding?

All the party did at its New York convention this week was to rearrange the furniture to make itself look like a native, national American party, concerned only with American welfare and no longer a Russian agent.

That's exactly what Moscow a year ago told Western Communist parties to do. The reason was simple: everywhere they had run into stone walls and their membership was dwindling.

If they could change their front they might be able to work with, and infiltrate, other groups — like labor, Socialists, liberals — which would have nothing to do with them so long as they were plainly Moscow errand boys.

Thus at the very moment of declaring itself its own man at last, the American party was following the new Russian post-Stalin line just as slavishly as it had followed Stalin while he was alive.

The Russians — after seeing what a little taste of independence had done among Polish and Hungarian Communists who had taken Moscow's advice too literally — did not want other parties to go too far.

The American Communist party didn't go too far. Since Russia's bloody intrusion in Hungary, the party's newspaper, the Daily

Worker, under the editorship of John Gates, had been critical of Moscow.

The press was barred from the convention in New York. But it can be said on the best authority that a single resolution adopted at the convention was critical of Russia.

And Gates barely got himself elected to the new 11-man administrative committee which will now boss the party. The party leadership, despite some rearranging, remains the same.

Until the convention William Z. Foster had been chairman for years, just as Eugene Dennis had been secretary. They had caused dissension among rank-and-file party members by the nature of their leadership.

Under them the party had reached the edge of disaster, suffering tremendous membership losses and finding itself isolated from all other groups in American life.

As a sop to the dissatisfied, Foster and Dennis were stripped of their titles but would join the administrative committee just the same. This is supposed to be a kind of collective leadership. That's what the Russians have.

James Marlow

They set it up after Stalin's death.

In the past the American Communist party had attracted many intellectuals. It should have small appeal to intellectuals in the future if they have any morality.

The American party stands intellectually degraded to a degree almost unbelievable among thinking people. It has never questioned Stalin, either on his tactics, his interpretation or his murders until his successors in the Kremlin denounced him and revealed him.

Then the American Communists acted surprised. It had as one of them said at the convention, always considered that what the Russian party did was "ipso facto valid." This was a complete confession that the American Communist party had abdicated thinking.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONALIN, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONALIN's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONALIN's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONALIN is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONALIN neither eggs, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONALIN exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONALIN, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Columbus Jury Pondering Case

COLUMBUS (AP) — A seven-man, five-woman jury begins deliberating today in the trial of Harry Parrett, 18, charged with the Dec. 1 knife slaying of Adam Bojaski, 22, in a brawl here.

The Columbus youth is charged with second degree murder. Testifying in his own defense at Franklin County court Thursday, Parrett said he stabbed Bojaski, also of Columbus, in self-defense.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am girl 22, living with my parents going to college at my own expense. And the problem is, I am tired and cross, with a quick temper, at home. All anyone has to do is say something ugly and I blow up.

To give you the background: I had wanted, for a long time, to go to college. Then one day my mother and I talked things over, and she said if I went to college, I'd have to pay for it. But if I finished college and worked for six months afterwards, they (my parents) would refund the money I had spent for my education.

At that time I had a savings account in a local bank, but not quite enough to pay for my tuition when I enrolled. So I got a job as elevator girl to make up the difference.

I got off at 2:30 in the afternoon, and usually I am tired and feel like being alone for a little while when I get home. That day for example I came in tired, and mother and I were in the living room talking, and something was said about my not having heard from a close friend for several days. I flared up, thinking I was the one to worry about that.

I have a really tough grind at school. Trying to keep up with job-work and study is a bigger task than the average person may realize; and would be hard or almost anyone.

At present I am so upset that I feel my heart is pumping out.

DEAR K. N.: Your heart was pounding with fatigue and frantic emotional stress as you wrote the foregoing appeal for help.

It is my impression that you are getting a pretty rough deal at home; that you feel under pressure constantly to justify your personal worth to your family—and to your mother especially.

It isn't clear whether your parents could afford to pay your tuition at present. But it is my impression that they can, and that your mother's stand is, in effect, a skeptical challenge of the genuineness of your hunger for a college education. It amounts to saying: "Prove to us what you can do, Miss Ambitious, before we invest a cent in your 'biggety' wishes."

Thus I surmise that you are desperately driven by family-fueled anxieties, enroute to your goal; and worn down not only by heavy exertions, but also by lack of emotional support from home. It wouldn't cost the family a thing to supply warm-hearted interest in your venture but prefer to needle and nag you in the midst of your forlorn struggle.

Because of enduring so much strain, you sorely need periods of quiet and rest, after school hours; and a loyal family would recognize this, and conspire to see that you got it.

For advice: Talk things over with your dean of women. You need a first-rate confidante as a safety valve—some adult with wisdom, who knows the ropes of helping students. Consider the possibility of working out a self-help method to live on campus. Maybe you could qualify for a scholarship, to reduce expenses. Get some psychological counsel—from a Family Service (or similar) agency—as a guide to emotional health, in dealing with mama.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Elmdale Christian grew to 70 members. When Sheriff Towle stepped in and arrested Laskey he was instructing a class of 15 who planned to confess their faith and join the church on Easter. Laskey pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of illegally marrying a couple Dec. 2. He was sentenced to six months in jail.

The sheriff began to suspect Laskey after hearing one of his stirring talks to service clubs about being a prisoner of war in Korea. Laskey said he'd lost his discharge papers. He said you couldn't get duplicates. Towle knew that wasn't true.

The FBI's record on Laskey dates back to a boy's industrial school at Ottawa, Canada, when he was 14. He was committed to a Montreal insane asylum after conviction of forgery in 1935 but escaped in three months. He has served terms in the Arizona and Minnesota prisons for stealing. He escaped from jail in Boston in 1945. The U. S. and Canadian armies and the U. S. Navy have desertion charges against him.

Electrical Union Defies City Order

CLEVELAND (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' Local 38 has defied an order of the city community relations board. Officials said a check for a $325 initiation fee, which accompanied an application for membership in the union for Theodore Pinkston, came back uncashed.

Union business agent Vincent Skodis said the refused check meant that Local 38 is defying the board's order and will go willingly to court. Pinkston, a Negro, said he had qualified for a city electrician's job but was unable to get the job because the union would not admit him to membership.

Well-Liked Preacher Bared As Wanted, Veteran Ex-Con

ELMDALE, Kan. (AP)—Calvin Laskey had revived the Elmdale Christian Church and more than trebled its membership in the nine months he was pastor, but today he's in jail.

The FBI said his record showed he'd been convicted 26 times on felony charges. Sheriff Francis Towle said Laskey himself acknowledged he had been in prison most of the past 20 years.

Elmdale is flabbergasted. "He was the best preacher we ever had," said Miss Carrie Wood, 88, and a lifelong resident of this little town (population 180) in the Flint Hills of southeast Kansas.

"We got value received," said George Dawson, Elmdale banker and member of the church board. "He didn't take a cent from us. That's the surprising thing about it."

"I don't figure I'm out anything," said Tom Wells, farmer and insurance agent who loaned $125 to the preacher. "I think he balanced the scales by all the good he did. It might be just a case of split personality, some kind of insanity. The man was very pious."

The Elmdale Christian Church, almost had faded away when the lanky 43-year-old Laskey appeared on the scene nine months ago and talked himself into the pastorate. He said his name was Dean Barton and he'd been a Presbyterian preacher. The Christian Church is made up of self-governing congregations. Many of the smaller ones do not demand credentials of their ministers.

Elmdale Christian grew to 70 members. When Sheriff Towle stepped in and arrested Laskey he was instructing a class of 15 who planned to confess their faith and join the church on Easter. Laskey pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of illegally marrying a couple Dec. 2. He was sentenced to six months in jail.

Federal Lease-Purchase Plan On Buildings Is Suspended

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Services Administration says that "when present inflationary pressures in the construction industry recede" the government will resume its lease-purchase program.

GSA Wednesday announced suspension of the program, which contemplated construction of 97 post offices and federal buildings costing nearly 700 million dollars. So far, only a two million dollar post office and court house at Rock Island, Ill., has been let to contract. This project, an official said, was not affected by the GSA action.

Under the lease-purchase plan, approved by Congress two years ago, the buildings would be erected by private firms or individuals, acting on federal specifications. The government then would pay the builder over a period of 10 to 25 years.

GSA Administrator Franklin G. Floete, announcing suspension of the program, said the action was in furtherance of President Eisenhower's call for postponement of work wherever possible in an effort to battle inflation.

Floete did not mention difficulties which the program has met since late last summer, chiefly because of the tight money situation. Two months ago GSA received only six bids for financing and building of eight projects. These six bids were rejected in January.

Floete said advertising of bids for various projects could be resumed, after inflationary pressures in the construction industry decline, "since it is important to move ahead on needed construction of government buildings."

In the meantime, he said, GSA will proceed with architectural and engineering plans and with site acquisitions "to the extent of the funds available."

Cleveland Boy Ordered to Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 15-year-old youth described as "Cleveland's most dangerous juvenile delinquent" by juvenile court Judge Albert Wolman, has been turned over to criminal court for trial on 12 armed robbery charges.

One of a family of 12, the boy's troubles with juvenile authorities began when he was nine. They include a stay at Boys Industrial School for auto theft. Authorities said he used a .38 caliber pistol in the holdups and admitted firing the gun a few times to get quicker action from his victims.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am girl 22, living with my parents going to college at my own expense. And the problem is, I am tired and cross, with a quick temper, at home. All anyone has to do is say something ugly and I blow up.

To give you the background: I had wanted, for a long time, to go to college. Then one day my mother and I talked things over, and she said if I went to college, I'd have to pay for it. But if I finished college and worked for six months afterwards, they (my parents) would refund the money I had spent for my education.

At that time I had a savings account in a local bank; but not quite enough to pay for my tuition when I enrolled. So I got a job as elevator girl to make up the difference.

I got off at 2:30 in the afternoon, and usually I am tired and feel like being alone for a little while when I get home. T day for example I came in tired, and mother and I were in the living room talking; and something was said about my not having heard from a close friend for several days. I flared up, thinking I was the one to worry about that.

I have a really tough grind at school. Trying to keep up with job-work and study is a bigger task than the average person may realize; and would be hard or almost anyone.

At present I am so upset that I feel my heart is pumping out.

K. N.

DEAR K. N.: Your heart was pounding with fatigue and frantic emotional stress as you wrote the foregoing appeal for help.

It is my impression that you are getting a pretty rough deal at home; that you feel under pressure constantly to justify your personal worth to your family—and to your mother especially.

It isn't clear whether your parents could afford to pay your tuition at present. But it is my inference that they can, and that your mother's stand-offish financial proposition is, in effect, a skeptical challenge of the genuineness of your hunger for a college education. It amounts to saying: "Prove to us what you can do, Miss Ambitious, before we invest a cent in your 'biggety' wishes."

Thus I surmise that you are desperately driven by family-fueled anxieties, enroute to your goal; and worn down not only by heavy exertions, but also by lack of emotional support from home. It wouldn't cost the family a thing to supply warm-hearted interest in your venture but prefer to needle and nag you in the midst of your forlorn struggle.

Because of enduring so much strain, you sorely need periods of quiet and rest, after school hours; and a loyal family would recognize this, and conspire to see that you got it.

For advice: Talk things over with your dean of women. You need a first-rate confidante as a safety valve—some adult with wisdom, who knows the ropes of helping students. Consider the possibility of working out a self-help method to live on campus. Maybe you could qualify for a scholarship, to reduce expenses. Get some psychological counsel—from a Family Service (or similar) agency—as a guide to emotional health, in dealing with mama.

Well-Liked Preacher Bared As Wanted, Veteran Ex-Con

ELMDALE, Kan. — Calvin Laskey had revived the Elmdale Christian Church and more than trebled its membership in the nine months he was pastor, but today he's in jail.

The FBI said his record showed he'd been convicted 26 times on felony charges. Sheriff Francis Towle said Laskey himself acknowledged he had been in prison most of the past 20 years.

Elmdale is flabbergasted. "He was the best preacher we ever had," said Miss Carrie Wood, 88, and a lifelong resident of this little town (population 180) in the Flint Hills of southeast Kansas.

"We got value received," said George Dawson, Elmdale banker and member of the church board. "He didn't take a cent from us, that's the surprising thing about it."

"I don't figure I'm out anything," said Tom Wells, farmer and insurance agent who loaned $125 to the preacher. "I think he balanced the scales by all the good he did. It might be just a case of split personality, some kind of insanity. The man was very pious."

The Elmdale Christian Church, almost had faded away when the lanky, 43-year-old Laskey appeared on the scene nine months ago and talked himself into the pastorate. He said his name was Dean Barton and he'd been a Presbyterian preacher. The Christian Church is made up of self-governing congregations. Many of the smaller ones do not demand credentials of their ministers.

Elmdale Christian grew to 70 members. When Sheriff Towle stepped in and arrested Laskey he was instructing a class of 15 who planned to confess their faith and join the church on Easter. Laskey pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of illegally marrying a couple Dec. 2. He was sentenced to six months in jail.

The sheriff began to suspect Laskey after hearing one of his stirring talks to service clubs about being a prisoner of war in Korea. Laskey said he'd lost his discharge papers. He said you couldn't get duplicates. Towle knew that wasn't true.

The FBI's record on Laskey dates back to a boy's industrial school at Ottawa, Canada, when he was 14. He was committed to a Montreal insane asylum after conviction of forgery in 1935 but escaped in three months. He has served terms in the Arizona and Minnesota prisons for stealing. He escaped from jail in Boston in 1945. The U. S. and Canadian armies and the U. S. Navy have desertion charges against him.

375 Years in Jail

Electrical Union Defies City Order

CLEVELAND — The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' Local 38 has defied an order of the city community relations board. Officials said a check for a $325 initiation fee, which accompanied an application for membership in the union for Theodore Pinkston, came back uncashed.

Union business agent Vincent Skodis said the refused check meant that Local 38 is defying the board's order and will go willingly to court. Pinkston, a Negro, said he had qualified for a city electrician's job but was unable to get the job because the union would not admit him to membership.

Federal Lease-Purchase Plan On Buildings Is Suspended

WASHINGTON — The General Services Administration says that "when present inflationary pressures in the construction industry recede" the "government will resume its lease-purchase program."

GSA Wednesday announced suspension of the program, which contemplated construction of 97 post offices and federal buildings costing nearly 700 million dollars. So far, only a two million dollar post office and court house at Rock Island, Ill., has been let to contract. This project, an official said, was not affected by the GSA action.

Under lease-purchase plan, approved by Congress two years ago, the buildings would be erected by private firms or individuals, acting on federal specifications. The government then would pay the builder over a period of 10 to 25 years.

GSA Administrator Franklin G. Floete, announcing suspension of the program, said the action was in furtherance of President Eisenhower's call for postponement of work wherever possible in an effort to battle inflation.

Floete did not mention difficulties which the program has met since late last summer, chiefly because of the tight money situation. Two months ago GSA received only six bids for financing and building of eight projects. These six bids were rejected in January.

Floete said advertising of bids for various projects could be resumed, after inflationary pressures in the construction industry decline, "since it is important to move ahead on needed construction of government buildings."

In the meantime, he said, GSA will proceed with architectural and engineering plans and with site acquisitions "to the extent of the funds available."

Cleveland Boy Ordered to Trial

CLEVELAND — A 15-year-old youth described as "Cleveland's most dangerous juvenile delinquent" by a juvenile Court Judge Albert Wolman, has been turned over to criminal court for trial on 12 armed robbery charges.

One of a family of 12, the boy's troubles with juvenile authorities began when he was nine. They include a stay at Boys Industrial School for auto theft. Authorities said he used a .38 caliber pistol in the holdups and admitted firing the gun a few times to get quicker action from his victims.

Only Upsets Can Break Up Big 10 Jam

First Division Clubs Scheduled To Tangle With Second Rankers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The log jam in the Big Ten basketball title scramble shows only little promise of being broken up Saturday when first division teams tangle with second division outfits in a full schedule.

Unless there are upsets — and that's probable — Indiana (6-2) should keep its top perch; Ohio State (6-3) looks safe to remain in second place; Illinois and Michigan State, each with 5-3, should stay locked in third and Purdue (5-4) should keep fifth.

However, anything could happen as the race barrels along to what looks like a developing championship tie and a possible winner with as many as four defeats against it.

Not since 1926 has a four-game loser taken the crown. It was shared at 8-4 that year by Indiana, Michigan, Purdue and Iowa. Iowa won in 1955 with 11-5.

Indiana, whose Archie Dees tops Big Ten scorers with a 22.6 average, hopes to fatten up on Northwestern's sophomores in a regional television game at Evanston, Ill., Saturday afternoon. The Wildcats have a 2-8 mark but some experts think the youngsters are about ready to explode an upset.

Their best sharpshooter is Joe Ruklick with a 16.7 average. Ruklick, at 6-9, is an inch taller than Dees.

In night contests, Michigan State, winner of five straight after losing its first two starts, is host to Iowa (3-4). Illinois is at Michigan (4-4), Purdue at Minnesota (4-4) and Wisconsin (4-6) at Ohio State.

Indiana is seeking its third Big Ten title in four years. The Hoosiers won in 1953 with 17-1 and repeated in 1954 with 12-2 when the 14-game schedule was adopted.

5 Players Tied In St. Pete Test

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Five players were tied at the start of the second round of the $5,000 St. Petersburg Women's Open golf tournament today.

Those who shot Thursday's low score of 70 were Louise Suggs, Betty Jameson, Marlene Bauer Hage, Fay Crocker, and Joyce Ziske. Women's par for the 6,116-yard Sunset course is 74.

Defending champion Kathy Cornelius was close up with 71. That figure was matched by Mary Lena Faulk, whose 32 on the back nine was the day's low round.

Pro Cage '5' Moves Into Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — Millionaire industrialist Fred Zollner has a simple explanation for his decision to move the Fort Wayne Pistons of the National Basketball Assn. to Detroit:

"We had about 3,000 loyal fans in Fort Wayne. If we had 5,000, we'd have been in business. It's a red-hot basketball town, but just too small for us. As long as we stayed there, we couldn't keep pace with the growth of the rest of the league."

The Pistons are coming into a town whose sports fans sometimes shy away when the words "pro basketball" are uttered.

Two clubs who tried to make a go of it in Detroit a decade ago folded after taking a combined financial beating of $80,000.

"But neither of those teams was successful," Zollner pointed out. "The Pistons have been successful. We're successful now. We intend to keep on being successful."

There were the old Detroit Falcons, members of the defunct Basketball Assn. of America. A last-place finish brought about a $50,000 setback. The same year the Detroit Gems were in the National Basketball League. Somehow the Gems managed to string together 40 consecutive losses and wound up with a $30,000 deficit.

No one has "experimented" with the Motor City since — not until Zollner announced Thursday he is moving the Pistons franchise to Detroit, starting next fall.

'Tough Battle' Faced by Lions

WHS Cagers To Play Wilmington Tonight

The Washington C. H. Lion cagers tackle the Hurricane at Wilmington tonight, and in the words of Lion Coach Herb Russell, "It'll be a pretty tough battle."

Russell summed up the feelings of both teams with that remark. For everybody in the South Central Ohio League knows that tonight's games will change the whole SCO picture. And the game at Wilmington, as well as the Hillsboro Indian invasion at Circleville, both will be "pretty tough battles."

"The boys are in pretty good spirits. They're confident — I hope not too confident," Russell said Friday morning.

"We'll be playing on Wilmington's own court, and of course we've got to allow about 10 points for that," Russell said. "Since we beat them by 10 last time on our court, it ought to mean a pretty close game."

"But the team's been working hard and looking good in practice, so I'm not so sure we can't do it," Russell said.

Likely starters, Russell added, are Dick English, Larry Miltstead, Jim McWilliams, Ron Knisely and Tom Swaim. Bill Heyman will see action, too.

This will be the next to last SCO game for the Lions. They are to play Waverly Saturday night at home, Hilliards at Hilliards next Tuesday and Greenfield here next Friday.

Dayton Rips Over Regis By 97-53

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dayton's Flyers, sparked by guards Carmen Riazzi and Don Lane, swept over the visiting Regis College Rangers from Denver 97-53 in the major event of Thursday night's college basketball activity.

Riazzi and Lane both scored 21 points to lead Dayton to its 10th victory in the last 11 starts. Dayton grabbed 93 rebounds to set a record. Earlier this season the Flyers took 88 rebounds against Gustavus Adolphus.

Luck was split for two Ohio quintets that traveled to Kentucky for action Thursday night.

At Frankfort, Ky., Kentucky State pulled away in the closing minutes to defeat Central State 59-56, and at Louisville, Miami of Ohio slipped by Eastern Kentucky 87-86 in overtime.

At Hiram, Wooster buried Hiram 113-66 in an Ohio Conference encounter and in Columbus, Dayton's visiting freshmen defeated Bliss College 81-56.

And at Findlay, the host Findlay Oilers took early control to outdistance Cedarville 92-76 in a Mid-Ohio League game.

Rail Brotherhood Merger Suggested

CLEVELAND (AP) — Merging two railroad brotherhoods into a single union of 176,000 has been proposed again by H. E. Gilbert, president of the Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Guy L. Brown, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said the engineers are "not interested" in affiliating with the AFL-CIO, with which the BLF & E affiliated Aug. 29.

Webb Is Favored To Whip Rivers

NEW YORK (AP) — Ellsworth (Spider) Webb and muscular Neal Rivers, a couple of well-traveled middleweight title contenders, make their Madison Square Garden debuts tonight with the streaking Spider a 12-5 favorite.

Webb, now a Chicago resident, puts a winning streak of 17 as well as his No. 4 ranking on the line against the hard-hitting youngster from Las Vegas. The 22-year-old Rivers is ranked eighth among the challengers for Gene Fullmer's 160-pound crown.

A non-winning teammate of Floyd Patterson of the great U.S. Olympic boxing team of 1952, the 25-year-old Webb hopes to grab a pro boxing title just like Patterson.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p. m. EST.

Browns Sign Pair Of New Prospects

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns got signed contracts back today from Mike Rotunno of Michigan and Bob Mischak, former Army end.

Rotunno, of Canton, put in two seasons at fullback and end at Michigan before being shifted to center and linebacker in his senior year. Coach Paul Brown says he expects Rotunno to be a candidate for linebacker.

Mischak is in Germany at present with the U. S. Army but is expected to receive his discharge in time to report to training camp. An outstanding end while attending West Point, Mischak was drafted by the Browns in 1954.

CHICAGO (AP) — The annual pep talk exhorting the Chicago White Sox to get in there and win the American League pennant has been issued by vice president Chuck Comiskey.

"Comiskey, in an inspirational memo to the 40 players who will convene at Tampa, Fla. Feb. 28, even went so far as to predict a 1957 championship. But he cagily couched it in these terms:

"Barring injuries and with our share of the breaks, you can and will bring the American League pennant to Chicago this year."

Greenberg Heads For Training Camp

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hank Greenberg, who departs today for the Cleveland Indians' training camp at Tucson, Ariz., says he expects all 37 players on the roster to be signed by March 1, the reporting deadline for Tribe veterans.

Nineteen players still are to be signed, but differences between the club and the players are reportedly small. The 19 include Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling.

2 'Uncooperative' Players Bleached

STEUBENVILLE (AP) — The uncooperative attitude of two stars on the Steubenville College basketball team has resulted in their suspension by Coach Hank Kuzma.

Frank Sapienza, a 6-foot forward from Pittsburgh, and Paul Kearns, a 5-foot-9 guard from McKeesport, Pa., were "disrupting teamwork" according to the coach. Admitting the suspensions would "hurt the team" Kuzma said that "They are off for good."

Only Upsets Can Break Up Big 10 Jam

First Division Clubs Scheduled To Tangle With Second Rankers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The log jam in the Big Ten basketball title scramble shows only little promise of being broken up Saturday when first division teams tangle with second division outfits in a full schedule.

Unless there are upsets — and that's probable — Indiana (6-2) should keep its top perch; Ohio State (6-3) looks safe to remain in second place; Illinois and Michigan State, each with 5-3, should stay locked in third and Purdue (5-4) should keep fifth.

However, anything could happen as the race barrels along to what looks like a developing championship tie and a possible winner with as many as four defeats against it.

Not since 1926 has a four-game loser taken the crown. It was shared at 8-4 that year by Indiana, Michigan, Purdue and Iowa. Iowa won in 1955 with 11-7.

Indiana, whose Archie Dees tops Big Ten scorers with a 22.6 average, hopes to fatten up on Northwestern's sophomores in a regionally televised game at Evanston, Ill., Saturday afternoon. The Wildcats have a 2-8 mark but some experts think the youngsters are about ready to explode an upset. Their best sharpshooter is Joe Ruklick with a 16.7 average. Ruklick, at 6-9, is an inch taller than Dees.

In night contests, Michigan State, winner of five straight after losing its first two starts, is host to Iowa (4-4), Illinois is at Michigan (4-4), Purdue at Minnesota (4-4) and Wisconsin (4-6) at Ohio State.

Indiana is seeking its third Big Ten title in four years. The Hoosiers won in 1953 with 17-1 and repeated in 1954 with 22-2 when 14-game schedule was adopted.

5 Players Tied In St. Pete Test

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Five players were tied at the start of the second round of the $5,000 St. Petersburg Women's Open golf tournament today.

Those who shot Thursday's low score of 70 were Louise Suggs, Betty Jameson, Marlene Bauer Hagge, Fay Crocker and Joyce Ziske. Women's par for the 6,116-yard Sunset course is 74.

Defending champion Kathy Cornelius was close up with 71. That figure was matched by Mary Lena Faulk, whose 32 on the back nine was the day's low round.

Pro Cage '5' Moves Into Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — Millionaire industrialist Fred Zollner has a simple explanation for his decision to move the Fort Wayne Pistons of the National Basketball Assn. to Detroit:

"We had about 3,000 loyal fans in Fort Wayne. If we had 5,000, we'd have been in business. It's a red-hot basketball town, but just too small for us. As long as we stayed there, we couldn't keep pace with the growth of the rest of the league."

The Pistons are coming into a town whose sports fans sometimes shy away when the words "pro basketball" are uttered.

Two clubs who tried to make a go of it in Detroit a decade ago folded after taking a combined financial beating of $80,000.

"But neither of those teams was successful," Zollner pointed out. "The Pistons have been successful. We're successful now. We intend to keep on being successful."

There were the old Detroit Falcons, members of the defunct Basketball Assn. of America. A last-place finish brought about a $50,000 setback. The same year a Detroit Gems were in the National Basketball League. Somehow the Gems managed to string together 40 consecutive losses and wound up with a $30,000 deficit.

No one has "experimented" with the Motor City since — not until Zollner announced Thursday he is moving the Pistons franchise to Detroit, starting next fall.

'Tough Battle' Faced by Lions

WHS Cagers To Play Wilmington Tonight

The Washington C. H. Lion cagers tackle the Hurricane at Wilmington tonight, and in the words of Lion Coach Herb Russell, "It'll be a pretty tough battle."

Russell summed up the feelings of both teams with that remark. For everybody in the South Central Ohio League knows that tonight's games will change the whole SCO picture. And the game at Wilmington, as well as the Hillsboro Indian invasion at Circleville, both will be "pretty tough battles."

"The boys are in pretty good spirits. They're confident — I hope not too confident," Russell said Friday morning.

"We'll be playing on Wilmington's own court, and of course we've got to allow about 10 points for that," Russell said. "Since we beat them by 10 last time on our court, it ought to mean a pretty close game."

"But the team's been working hard and looking good in practice, so I'm not so sure we can't do it," Russell said.

Likely starters, Russell added, are Dick English, Larry Miltstead, Jim McWilliams, Ron Knisely and Tom Swaim. Bill Herman will see action, too.

This will be the next to last SCO game for the Lions. They are to play Waverly Saturday night at home, Hilliards at Hilliards next Tuesday and Greenfield here next Friday.

Lion Cubs Win From Wilmington

The Washington C. H. junior high basketball squad trampled Wilmington's juniors here Thursday, 33-13.

The Lion Cubs played some of the best ball they've played all season.

Led by Dave Reno, who scored 15 points, the Cubs gave the visitors no quarter, holding the lead from the opening basket on. Reno, who suddenly caught fire last week after an average season, has scored 32 points in his last two games.

This was the last regular game for the Cubs, but they'll be playing more basketball this season: a tournament at Chillicothe for junior high teams starts next week.

Washington C. H. scoring: Seaman 5; Miller 2; Crouse 2; Foster 3; Reno 15; Baker 6.

Wilmington scoring: Kidd 6; Shaw 3; Mustard 2; Arlington 1; Graham 1.

Masonic Lodge Inspection Held

Excellent Rating Given in Report

The Blue Lodge of the Masonic Order here was given a rating of excellent following the annual inspection Thursday night by Howard Sheets of Fairborn, district deputy grand master.

The inspection was held following a 6:30 p. m. dinner served by the Eastern Star.

Immediately after the dinner, a big Biblical picture was presented to the lodge by Frank Weade and his mother in memory of the late John Weade, a past master of Fayette Lodge. It was accepted with an expression of appreciation by Robert Denton, master of the lodge.

The third degree was conferred on Navy Chief Phillip Lee by officers of the lodge, all dressed in tuxedos, for the benefit of 131 Masons and the inspecting officer.

The musical backdrop for the ritual was provided by H. H. Denton.

OFFICERS who comprised the degree team were: Robert Denton, master; Charles Mustine, senior warden; William Melvin, junior warden; Russell Giebelhouse, secretary; Howard Mann, treasurer; Dennis Hawk, senior deacon; Robert Seymour, junior deacon; Charles Minear, tyler; John Wylie, senior steward; Denzell Leggett, junior steward and Virgil Lowe, chaplain.

Past masters of Fayette Lodge and visiting masters from other lodges were introduced by Walter Heath, a past master.

Masons from most of the other 19 lodges in this district were here for the occasion.

Two To Go from Here To Methodist Confab

Two Washington C. H. residents will join more than 300 selected representatives from all over Ohio at the fourth Ohio Area Methodist Conference on Christian Higher Education Saturday, Feb. 23, at Gay Street Methodist Church in Mt. Vernon.

Theme of the conference is "The Church in Higher Education". Joining selected district representatives and Methodist college faculty members and student representatives and Wesley Foundation delegates will be the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of the Grace Church here, and Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, WSCS district secretary for student work.

The two will be part of a delegation of 10 Methodist ministers and laymen from this district, which includes Fayette and surrounding counties.

The Rev. Mr. Poe is district chairman for higher education. He said he expects to participate in the program of the day-long meeting.

Excitement All Over Now In Marietta

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Marietta's citizenry began to relax today. The excitement is over.

A mile-long parade Thursday with airplanes zooming overhead, a night ball at Marietta College, a visit by two governors and Rock Hudson were all part of the fan-fair surrounding the premier of "Battle Hymn," a movie dramatizing the life of Col. Dean Hess, Marietta-born hero of the Korean war.

It was also part of the 122nd anniversary of Marietta College, and Gov. C. William O'Neill's 41st birthday.

Thousands lined the parade route during the afternoon's activities and thousands more jammed three theaters in the evening to see the movie. Observers said the parade drew more spectators than a parade in 1938 when President Frank D. Roosevelt visited Marietta.

Among the celebrities here for the premiere were movie stars Rock Hudson and Dan Duryea; O'Neill; Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia; Dr. You Chang Yang, Korean ambassador to the United States, and Hess himself, a U. S. Air Force fighter pilot.

Eisenhower replied that "I understand the reason you set forth for resigning at this time in spite of your conviction that nothing you have done violates any legal or ethical standards that must be observed in government."

Ross' resignation recalled those of Harold E. Talbot as secretary of the Air Force; Hugh W. Cross, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Edmund F. Mansure as general services administrator; and Peter A. Strobel as public buildings commissioner.

Each had been summoned before a congressional committee, but each denied having done anything wrong.

The Ross inquiry touched particularly on an $834,150 Army contract for 249,000 pairs of trousers, awarded to Wynn Enterprises last Nov. 13. Mrs. Ross stated her company's bid was $75,000 lower than the next lowest bid.

The subcommittee also had said it was inquiring about 22 contracts awarded in the last five years to Southern Athletic Co., headed by Mrs. Ross' brother, H. D. Wynn.

New Ohio Study Committee To Ponder Juvenile Crime

COLUMBUS (AP) — Juvenile crime will be the first area studied by a new committee of Ohio business and civic leaders seeking to modernize the state's correctional methods.

Ceo B. Dolan of Columbus, consultant to the Ohio Committee on Delinquency and Crime, said the group will contact juvenile agencies throughout Ohio during the coming month. Dolan is a member of the National Probation and Parole Assn., which is sponsoring the committee.

James Fain, executive editor of the Dayton Daily News and temporary committee chairman, said at an organizational meeting Thursday that the group will undertake a five-year study of Ohio's laws, courts, law enforcement agencies and prisons. Purpose of the study is to find means to introduce into the state's judicial system newer and better ways of handling law-breakers with particular emphasis on first-offenders.

"This is an action committee," Fain said. "We are not going to investigate the causes of crime but try to put to use the best known methods of handling offenders."

THE GROUP voted to set March 14 as a tentative date for their second meeting. It will be in Columbus, Dolan said.

Chief Justice Irving B. Cooper of New York's Court of Special Sessions outlined the problem faced by the courts in trying to rehabilitate law breakers in a speech at a committee luncheon. He said: "The object of sentence should be to fit the punishment not to the offender but to the crime."

"Not until the courts are adequately staffed with professional skills will we be able to identify the youthful offender with good moral potential from the psychopathic first offender who needs institutionalized care."

"As things stand now, the courts cannot complete their mission with assurance."

The committee members include N. B. Griffin, consultant, Shelby Shoe Co., Portsmouth; Press E. Pittenger Jr., assistant counsel, General Tire and Rubber Co., Akron; Dr. Frank J. Prout, Sandusky; Mrs. Walter Rentschler, Hamilton; Roy Ross, president, CIO state council, Springfield; Welker J. Smucker, vice president, J.M. Smucker Co., Orrville; Dr. Charles H. Wesley, president, Central State College and L. F. Warington, Sidney.

Fayette County Sisters Win Talent Show for TV Program

Two Fayette County girls today are looking forward to making their second television appearance over WSAV-TV, Huntington, W. Va., Feb. 21 after having carried off top honors in a talent show competition Thursday night in Henry Clay High School auditorium near Portsmouth.

The McCormick Sisters—Dica, 18, and Alma, 16—won the nod of the judges Thursday night when they played their own guitar and banjo accompaniment as they sang a modern ballad before the TV cameras.

Both are students at Good Hope High School. Dica a senior and Alma a sophomore. Dica started playing the banjo about two years ago, but Alma has been playing the guitar for about six years.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McCormick of the Rock Mills-Sturgeon Rd., they have made several public appearances during the last few months.

For their TV appearance, the sisters were dressed alike in quilted skirts and green glazed cotton blouses.

For their winning performance Thursday night, they received $10 in cash and the opportunity to appear on the TV program (channel 3) at Huntington Feb. 21.

And what of their plans for the future? Well, they have ambitions to become professional entertainers, but they still have some school ahead before they reach the final decision.
